

A SHOE SALE.

To meet the unprecedented demand for Tan Oxfords this season we have been obliged to carry an enormous stock. Our inventory just taken shows that we still have practically complete assortments of the most desirable styles. Since our store policy permits of no carrying over of unseasonable goods from one year to another, and in order positively to insure a quick clearance of these lines we announce a sale on all of our light weight summer shoes.

CHAPTER V.

THE MEER TO THE THRONE.

LOI was not present at the sunset prayers in Karnak. An hour before he had summoned the trustee priest in the brotherhood of ministers to Amen and bade him conduct the ceremonies of the evening. Then he sent to the temple stores, put into service another boat and was ferried over to the Libyan suburb of Thebes. He had himself borne in a litter to the greater palace of Rameses II. and asked an audience with Menepthah.

The king was at prayers in the temple of his father, close to the palace, and the dusk of twilight was settling on the valley of the Nile before Loi was summoned to the council chamber. Behind a solid panel of carved cedar which hedged the royal dais stood Menepthah.

Below, with the light of the torch wavering up and down his robust figure, was Harhat, Menepthah's greatest general and now the new fan bearer. To the king's right, beside the dais, with a hand resting on the back of a cathedra, or great chair, was the Crown Prince Rameses. The old courtiers of the dead grandseigneur visiting the court of Menepthah flung up their hands and gasped when they beheld the heir to the double crown of Egypt. They looked upon the old Pharaoh, renewed in youth and strength. There were the same narrow temples with the sloping brow, the same hawked nose, the same full lips, the same heavy eye with the smoldering ember in its dusky depths. He was twenty-two years old now and had proved that no alien nature had been housed in the old Pharaoh's shape. He had never met repulse or defeat; he had never entered the presence of his peer; he had never loved.

DO YOU GET UP

WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, uric acid, catarrh of the bladder and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work and in private practice, and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all good druggists. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

When the priest finished, the king was sitting upright, his face flushed with feeling. "Well," he cried, stamping his foot when the three before him kept silence, "have ye no word to say?" His eyes rested on Harhat, with an imperious expectation in them. The fan bearer bent low before he answered.

He had never prayed. He was a solitary pover who admitted death as his only equal and defied even him.

The other counselors were minor members of the cabinet who had been summoned, but expected only to hear and keep silence while the great powers—the king, the prince, the priest and the fan bearer—conferred.

Loi entered, bowing and walking with palmed step. At a sign from the king, who had already sunk into his throne, the old man sat.

"Thou bringest us tidings, holy father?"

"Even so, O son of Ptah."

"Say on."

The priest moved a little uncomfortably and glanced at the ministers grouped in the shadows.

"Save for the worthy Harhat and our prince, O my king, thou hast no need of great council," he said.

Menepthah raised his hand, and the superannuated ministers left the chamber. When they were gone Loi unwrapped the roll Kenkenes had brought and began to read:

To Loi, the Most High Servant of Amen, Lord of Tape, the Servant of Ra, at On, sends greeting:

The gods lend me composure to speak calmly with thee, O brother. And let the diadem which is mine explain the lack of ceremony in this writing.

It is not likely that thou hast forgotten the good Queen Neferari Thermuthis' foster son—the Hebrew Moses whom she found adrift in a basket on Nilus. But lest the years have driven the memory of his misdeeds from thy mind, I tell again the story. Thou knowest he was initiated a priest of Isis, and scarce had the last of the mysteries been disclosed to him ere it was seen that the brotherhood had taken an apostate unto itself.

By the grace of the gods, he interfered in a brawl at Pithom and killed an Egyptian. Before he could be taken he fled into Midian, and the secrets of our order were safe, for a time.

The gods came fellows have entered Ostris. The young who knew not have filled their places. Thou and I only are left—and the Hebrew!

He hath returned! The gods make strong our hands against him! He went away as a menace, but he returneth as a pestilence. The demons of Amenti are with him, and his hour is most propitious. He hath sunk himself in the Jewellish pool here in the north, and he will breathe therefrom such vapors as may destroy Egypt—faith—state—all!

The bond people are already in ferment. There was mutiny at Pa-Ramessu recently when 30 were chosen to work the quarries. Moreover, the taskmasters are corrupt. The commander, one Atsu by name, appointed when the chief Meremra became monarch over Bubastis, hath disarmed the under drivers, removed the women from toll and restored many privileges which are ruinous to law and order. The whole delta is in commotion. The nomad tribes near the Goshen country are agitated; communities of Egyptian shepherds have been won over to the Hebrew's cause, and now the Israelitish renegade needs but to betray the secrets to bring such calamity upon Egypt as never befell a nation.

But, brother, he is within reach of an avenging hand! Commission us, I pray thee, to protect the mysteries after my manner that to us seemeth good. Dispatch is urgent. He may fly again. Give us thine answer as we have sent this to thee—by a nobleman—a swift and trusty one, and the blessings of the Radiant Three be upon thy head. Thy servant, the servant of Ra. SNOFRU.

When the priest finished, the king was sitting upright, his face flushed with feeling.

"Well," he cried, stamping his foot when the three before him kept silence, "have ye no word to say?"

His eyes rested on Harhat, with an imperious expectation in them. The fan bearer bent low before he answered.

"With thy gracious permission, O son of Ptah," he said. "I would suggest that it were wise to cool an insurrection in the simmering. The disaffection seems to be of great extent. But the Rameside army assembled on the ground might check an open insurrection. Furthermore, thou hast seen the salutary effect of thy visit to Tape when she forgot her duty to her sovereign. Thy presence in the delta would undoubtedly expedite the suppression of the rebellion likewise."

"Oh, aye," Menepthah declared. "I must go to Tanis. It seems that I must hasten hither and thither over Egypt pursuing sedition like a scent hunting jackal. Hast thou any simpler plan to offer, holy father?"

The old priest shifted a little before he answered.

"The mysteries of the faith are in possession of Moses," he began at last. "The writing saith he hath exerted great influence over the bond people—in truth he hath entered a peaceful land and stirred it up—and time is but needed to bring the unrest to open warfare. Ye know that we hold the faith by scant tenure in the respect of the people. Ye know the perversity of humanity. So if it were to come over the spirit of this Hebrew to betray the mysteries, to scout the faith and overturn the gods, he would have rabble Egypt following at his heels. The rabble without a leader is harmless. Cut off the head of Moses and the insurrection will subside utterly."

"Moses, though a Hebrew, an infidel and a malefactor," replied Menepthah, "is a prince of the realm, my foster brother, Neferari's favorite son. Nay, he shall not die by hand of mine." The prelate raised his head and met the eyes of the king. After he read what lay therein the dissatisfaction that had begun to show on his ancient face faded.

The Pharaoh settled back into his seat, and his brow cleared as if the problem had been settled, but suddenly he sat up.

"What have I profited by this council?" He stopped abruptly and turned to the crown prince. "Help us, my Rameses," he said in a softer tone. "We had well nigh forgotten thee."

Rameses raised himself from the back of his cathedra, against which he lounged, and moved a step forward.

"A word, my father," he said calmly. "Thy perplexity hath not been untangled for thee, nor even a thread pulled which shall start it unraveling. The priesthood can kill Moses," he said to Loi, "and it will do them no hurt. And thou, my father, canst countenance it and seem no worse than any other monarch that loved his throne. Thus ye will decapitate the monster. But there he creeps in the desert which, losing one head, grows another. Moses is not of such exalted or supernatural villainy that they can not fill his place. Wilt thou execute Israel one by one as it raises up a leader against thee?"

"Thou hast not fathomed the Hebrew's capabilities, my father. In him is a wealth, a power, a magnificence that thy fathers and mine built up for thee, and the time is ripe for the garnering of thy profit. What monarch of the sister nations hath two and a half millions of hereditary slaves—not tributary folk nor prisoners of war, but slaves that are his as his cattle and his flocks are his? What monarch before thee had them? None anywhere, at any time. Thou art rich in bond people beyond any monarch since the gods reigned."

"By use they have fitted themselves to the limits laid upon them by the great Rameses. The feeble have died, and the frames of the sturdy have become like brass. They have bred like beetles in the Nile mud for numbers. Ignorant of their value, thou hast been indifferent to their existence. Forgetting them was pampering them. They have lived on the bounty of Egypt for 400 years, and save for the wise inflections of a year or two by the older Pharaohs, they have flourished unmoled. How they repay thee, thou seest by this writing. Now, by the gods, turn the face of a master upon them. Remove the soft driver Atsu and put one in his stead who is worthy the office. Tickle them to alacrity and obedience with the lash—yoke them—load them—fill thy canals, thy quarries, thy mines with them!" He broke off and moved forward a step, squarely facing the Pharaoh.

"Thou hast thine artist—that demi-god Mentu, in whom there is superabundance of invention above every other name on the world's monuments, and it shall endure as long as stone and bronze shall last and tradition go on from lip to lip?"

The prince paused abruptly. Menepthah was on his feet, almost in tears at the contemplation of his pictured greatness.

"Mark ye," the prince began again. His arm shot out and felt, and the flash of its jewels made it look like a bolt of lightning. "I would not fall heir to Israel, and if these things are done in thy lifetime I must build my monuments with prisoners of war!"

The old hierarch, who had been nervously rubbing the arm of his chair during the last of the prince's speech, broke the dead silence with an awed whisper.

"Ah, then spake the incomparable Pharaoh!"

Menepthah put out his hand, smiling. "No more. The way is shown. I follow, O my Rameses!"

RAILWAY COMMISSIONERS

State Board to Appeal for Adjustment of Rates.

Indianapolis, Aug. 23.—At a meeting here Friday the state railway commission will make an effort to establish an equitable freight rate for coal for the gas belt. An appeal for adjustment of rates for Elwood will probably be the basis for a settlement for the entire gas belt. At Elwood there are three rates. The rate for general consumers' coal is 85 cents a ton, for manufacturers 60 cents and for such corporations as the electric light and water companies, 75 cents. The latter have complained to the commission, alleging that they are entitled to as low a rate as the manufacturers. It is said that the freight bills show that the manufacturers pay the same rate as the general consumers, but they are allowed a rebate by the roads. The board has invited the manufacturers, representatives of all the coal roads doing business in the gas belt, and the coal operators to be present Thursday. The situation will be discussed and the commission hopes to establish a rate that will be satisfactory and equitable to all consumers. The fuel problem has been bothering the gas belt manufacturers, so the outcome of the conference here will be of much interest to them.

Although City Sanitarian Keene does not believe there is any danger of yellow fever in Indiana, he declared to the health board that the stegomyia fasciata, the yellow fever mosquito, breeds in this section, notwithstanding the statements of scientists to the contrary. He said that a distinguished entomologist at New Orleans told him that the zone of habitation of the stegomyia extends several hundred miles further north than formerly believed. He asserted that he has matured a genuine specimen of the stegomyia found here. He advised the board, however, to be prepared to meet the disease, suggesting that a ward at the hospital be screened off as they are in New Orleans, so if there should be a patient the stegomyia would not have a chance to reach him and then sting others. He also advised the board to print a pamphlet regarding the disease and send it to the medical men of the country so they may become acquainted with the methods of treatment. He does not believe the danger will be entirely abated until cold weather sets in.

Sydney W. Cantwell of Hartford City, speaker of the last Indiana house of representatives, was operated on at St. Vincent's hospital here yesterday afternoon for tuberculosis of the kidneys. He stood the ordeal much better than expected owing to his weakened physical condition. The operation was performed by Dr. W. H. Wishard, assisted by Drs. Cook and Oliver. Mr. Cantwell was on the operating table over two hours, but he exhibited considerable vitality in rallying from the anesthetic. His condition last night was somewhat in his favor, but it was stated at the hospital this morning that it will possibly not be known for two or three days whether or not he has a chance to recover. Mr. Cantwell has been a sufferer from disease for several years and was only able to serve as speaker last winter by great exertion of will power. He failed rapidly in health after the session and recently he suggested the operation in hopes of prolonging his life. He was brought here a few days ago, but the operation was delayed in hopes that he might gain strength for it.

Mayor Holtzman has finally gone through the formality of announcing his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for mayor. He said: "While not seeking renomination, if my party is pleased with my administration and sees fit to renominate me next Saturday, I will gladly make the race again, believing that I owe it to my party to answer its demand." Mayor Holtzman will be renominated without opposition, as will William Fogarty, city clerk. There are five candidates for police judge but Mayor Holtzman is for James L. Mitchell, and the latter will probably win. Mayor Holtzman figures that Charles A. Bookwalter, the Republican candidate, is no stronger than he was two years ago, and that he can defeat him.

Fatal Boiler Explosion.

Bosworth, Mo., Aug. 23.—Four men were killed by the explosion of an engine on a dredge boat near Norborne, Mo., yesterday. The dead are: James Lynch of Bosworth, Isaac Wade of Norborne, and two unknown laborers. The bodies were hurled several feet from the wreck and were mutilated beyond recognition.

OLD PORTSMOUTH

The Eyes of the World Still Focused on New Hampshire Town.

NOTHING TANGIBLE

Yet Accomplished in the Way of Signing Peace Terms by Commissioners.

The Outlook For Peace Is by No Means Promising at This Time.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 23.—Latest information is that Baron Komura has agreed to offer the president's compromise proposition. A high authority believes it impossible that a final rupture can come today, no matter what the character of the emperor's final instructions to Mr. Witte may be.

"If the negotiations can be prolonged into next week," said he, "so much pressure will be brought to bear upon the emperor that he will not be able to resist."

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 23.—The Associated Press is now in a position to reveal substantially the suggestion of President Roosevelt for breaking the existing deadlock in the peace negotiations and rescuing the conference from failure. His solution would ingeniously permit the satisfaction of the Japanese demands for reimbursement for the cost of the war, and at the same time enable Russia to face the world with the declaration that she had not ceded a foot of territory or paid a kopeck of war tribute to the victor. The solution is the one which has heretofore been described in dispatches as the natural and logical compromise. Tersely stated, it consists of an agreement by Russia to repurchase possession of either all or half of the island of Sakhalin now in the military occupation of the Japanese, for a sum the amount of which, if the two countries cannot agree, shall be decided by some method of arbitration hereafter to be determined. The purchase money, together with the sum Japan would obtain from the cession of the Chinese Eastern railroad and the maintenance of the Russian prisoners in Japan, would, it is estimated, about equal the amount claimed by Japan as her bill for the cost of the war. Possibly, therefore, the solution offered by the president involves recession by Japan upon Article 5 (the cession of Sakhalin), and recession by Japan upon Article 9 (indemnity). It seems practically certain, though this cannot be affirmed positively, that the president has been able to give Mr. Witte substantial assurances that Japan would be willing to accept such a compromise. This is apparently supported by the authoritative Japanese statement made last night in the reply to a question as to whether Japan has not decided to make substantial concessions, "It all depends upon Russia."

AMBASSADOR RESIGNS

Edwin H. Conger Leaves Diplomatic Service.

Oyster Bay, L. I., Aug. 23.—Edwin H. Conger of Iowa has resigned his post as American ambassador to Mexico, to take effect Oct. 18 next, and President Roosevelt has accepted the resignation.

Mr. Conger's retirement from the diplomatic service was foreshadowed in these dispatches last week. It was indicated then that he might be sent to Pekin as a special commissioner of the president to adjust, if possible, the differences which have arisen between this country and China over the boycott of American goods by some of the Chinese commercial guilds. While no official statement is obtainable here regarding that mission, there are reasons for the statement that it either has been abandoned by the president or that it has been declined by Mr. Conger. At any rate it is believed Conger will not go to China.

It has not been determined definitely yet who will succeed Mr. Conger as ambassador to Mexico, but, as heretofore stated, it probably will be David E. Thompson of Nebraska, now American ambassador to Brazil. It is known that Ambassador Thompson desires the Mexican post.

General Strike in Poland.

Warsaw, Aug. 23.—Owing to the strong military measures adopted, the strike will not become absolutely general. Many shops are open and only a few banks, insurance companies and commercial offices are closed. Still, the situation is serious. Practically all the factories at Warsaw and Lodz are closed. Serious rioting has occurred at the latter place, the strikers forcing the shops to close by smashing the windows. The strike on the state railways and tramways continues and telegraphic communication between Lodz and Warsaw is discontinued. The newspapers are not appearing at Lodz.

Bad Wreck Reported.

Topeka, Kan., Aug. 23.—A report has just reached here that five people have been killed and a number injured in a wreck on the Union Pacific near Rossville, Kan., about eighteen miles west of here.

GREAT ENTHUSIASM

Cheering Thousands Greet Vice President.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Aug. 23.—Vice President and Mrs. Fairbanks, accompanied by Congressman and Mrs. David J. Foster, arrived here last night in Congressman Foster's private car from Manchester, Vt., and were welcomed at the station by thousands of citizens. Battalions of United States troops and the national guard escorted the vice president's party to the residence of Senator George R. Maltby, whose guest they are during their visit. A grand ovation was given to the president all along the route. Thousands of old veterans stood at attention near the Maltby residence. Mr. Fairbanks standing uncovered as his carriage passed them.

The vice president occupied a box at the campfire of the St. Lawrence County Veterans' association, now in convention, his presence being the occasion of an enthusiastic demonstration. Tonight the party will go to Alexandria Bay as guests of William B. Ridgely, comptroller of the currency. A reception will be tendered there in the evening at the Thousand Island House.

Indians Vote for One State.

Muskogee, I. T., Aug. 23.—Resolutions declaring for immediate statehood for Oklahoma and Indian Territory as one state were adopted yesterday by the statehood and constitution convention of the Indians of the five civilized tribes. Then after the appointment of a committee fifty-one which is to draft a constitution for presentation to the convention, the gathering adjourned to await the work of the committee. The committee will meet daily, dividing the work of drafting the constitution among subcommittees. This it is believed will consume two or three weeks' time. The prohibitionists apparently have won their fight and will be permitted to prepare a strong prohibition plan.

Sunday School Gathering.

Clifton, Mass., Aug. 23.—A meeting of the central committee of the International Sunday School association convened here last night and will remain in session for several days. The opening services took the form of a meeting of praise and prayer. W. N. Hartshorn of Boston, chairman of the central committee, welcomed other members of the committee, and Hamilton S. Conant, general secretary of the Massachusetts Sunday School association responded. The central committee has charge of the work of the 153,000 Sunday schools in the United States, Canada, Cuba, the British West Indies, Mexico and Central America.

Another Kentucky Tragedy.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 23.—George Smith and James D. Smith, father and son and well-to-do farmers of Elmville, a little village of this county, were murdered while at work in the field on their farm yesterday by an unknown party. The elder Smith was killed instantly, a charge of shot penetrating his brain. The son received three wounds, one in the face and two in the back, given evidently as he sought to escape his murderer. Suspicion turned to Cal Newton, a neighbor of the farmer of equally good standing, and he was arrested. He denies guilt.

Case of Leprosy Cured.

Manila, Aug. 23.—What appears to be a well-authenticated instance of the cure of leprosy has been found here. A few weeks ago a patient who had been afflicted with leprosy and who had been under treatment for that disease, died of liver complaint. After the patient's death every part of the body was subjected to a searching microscopic examination by bacteriologists, but not the slightest trace of leprosy could be found. Dr. H. B. Wilkinson, the physician who treated the patient for leprosy, is a graduate of the University of Virginia.

Mediterranean Moths.

Minneapolis, Aug. 23.—Mediterranean moths have closed two Minneapolis flour mills. More mills are expected to shut down soon in order to be rid of these pests. The moths gather under the fine silk cloth through which the flour is sifted and form webs from one to four inches thick. They also eat the cloth, making it impossible to sift the flour.

TERRE TELEGRAMS

France has demanded an indemnity of $2,000 from Morocco.

Death claimed another victim of the Hoquei disaster at Chicago.

Eight women were fined in a Chicago police court for gambling.

The Detroit Tribune has changed from a morning to an evening paper. It is stated that Prince Henry of Germany has not planned to visit this country.

Dr. T. D. Morris, president in Philadelphia of medical circles, committed suicide.

Forty-one states are represented in Governor Pennington's uniformity of laws conference.

A train that jumped the track at Middlestown, Pa., crashed through four houses.

An internal machine was sent to New York police headquarters. No harm resulted.

The American Manufacturers' association incorporated at Albany, N. Y. Its chief purpose is to oppose trade unions.

An Indianapolis mother killed herself immediately after her sick daughter was removed to a hospital. It is feared the shock will kill the daughter.

SCROFULA FROM PARENT TO CHILD

The laws of heredity are invariable and the diseased blood of parents is handed down to children in the form of Scrofula. Being thus deeply rooted nothing can reach the disease but a constitutional remedy. The very foundation of the blood is diseased, and until it is purified and made strong, those who are born with a scrofulous tendency cannot have the blessing of robust health.

Cleveland, O., 122 Brownell St. I inherited Scrofula from my ancestry. It was a means, of course, weak, impure blood and a run-down, debilitated condition of the system. Treatment of physicians did not do me anything like the good S. S. S. did last winter when I took it. It promotes appetite and digestion, gives strength and energy, builds up the general health in every way, and in addition to being an excellent blood purifier it adds to its success as a remedy for Scrofula. It did more for me than anything I have used, and with pleasure I recommend it. S. S. S. completely cured me of this blighting disease.

MRS. LOUISE COHEN, S. S. S., the king of blood purifiers, is the medicine that is required, because it changes the quality of the blood by cleansing it of all poisons and impurities, building it up and strengthening the entire system. When S. S. S. has restored the blood to a healthy condition and forced out the scrofulous deposits, there is a sure return to health. No remedy has ever been found to equal this great vegetable preparation for the cure of all diseases arising from a diseased or impure blood supply. If you have Scrofula or any tendency to it, write us at once about your case and we will send you a book describing the disease and give, without charge, any medical advice you may need.

Coleman Boy Enslaved. Valdes, a Ga., Aug. 23.—Deputy U. S. Marshal Goodwin has arrested a negro, William Strickland, at Bacontown, on the charge of violating the espionage law. It is claimed that Strickland has been holding a negro boy named Henry Sterling in "involuntary servitude." Strickland got the boy in South Carolina and kept him at work. He whipped the boy and the boy ran away, whereupon Strickland is said to have had him arrested under the labor contract law. He then had the boy released on his promise to work out the matter, and has since held him in his service.

Will Seek Damages. Laporte, Ind., Aug. 23.—The first action for damages growing out of injuries received from the driving of an automobile was filed in the circuit court. Gustav Pacholke will be plaintiff in an action of $25,000 damages against Brinkmann Bros., who maintain a garage. Pacholke's horse took fright at the persistent tooting of the horn on the machine and a runaway resulted, the plaintiff receiving injuries which caused the amputation of his left leg.

New College President. Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 23.—Prof. J. H. McMurray of Central college, Huntington, Ind., has accepted the presidency of Lincoln college, Lincoln, Ill.

"I have no more nervous headaches and rest very well at night."

When a woman suffers from female weakness and irregularity or other forms of womanly disease, the effect is certain to be marked in her nervous system, the general effect being, as in Mrs. Woodin's case, "nervous headaches, restlessness at night," and a run-down condition. It is simply common sense then which says if you cure the female weakness, irregularity, etc., you will cure the nervousness, sleeplessness and other consequences of womanly disease.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the womanly diseases which undermine the general health. It establishes regularity, dries encumbering drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It cures headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, etc., by curing the womanly diseases which cause these ailments.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence strictly private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I feel more than grateful to you for the benefit I have received from Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery' writes Mrs. E. W. Woodin of Millerton, Dutchess Co., N. Y., care of Box No. 1. 'For a number of years I have been troubled with female weakness, nervous headache, irregularity, restlessness at night, and in fact was all run down but after taking three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery' I am entirely cured. I am now a healthy, vigorous woman, and rest very well at night. In fact, feel like a new person. I thank you for your kind advice and for the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Favorite Prescription' which have cured me. I earnestly advise all who are 'run down' similar troubles to write to Dr. R. NEW FILTER.

In Operation and Works to Perfection.

The new filtration plant is complete and was put in operation yesterday. The Water Company is well pleased with the results for the filter does the work perfectly.

While the river was muddy yesterday and is still worse today the water supplied to the people of Seymour is nice and clear. This is proof that the filter does the work. This, too, despite the fact that there has been no opportunity yet to flush the mains or standpipes.

Dr. S. E. Smith, the hospital expert, visited the pumping station Tuesday and expressed himself as well pleased with the work of the filter. He said he was acquainted with the Jewell filter and knew that there was none better.

Fraud Exposed.

A few counts of rascals have lately been making and trying to sell imitations of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, and other medicines, thereby defrauding the public. This is to warn you to beware of such people, who seek to profit, through stealing the reputation of remedies which have been successfully curing disease, for over 35 years. A sure protection, to you is our name on the wrapper. Look for it, on all Dr. King's or Bucklen's remedies, as all others are mere imitations. H. E. DEEPEST MYSTERY Surrounds the Disappearance at Hammond of E. G. Davidson.

MURDER IS SUSPECTED

Was Involved in Labor Troubles and Life Had Been Threatened.

Believed His Body Was Thrown in the River and Stream Is Being Draggd.

Hammond, Ind., Aug. 23.—Mystery surrounds the disappearance of E. G. Davidson, a wealthy contractor of this city, that neither the police nor his family are able successfully to solve. The South Chicago police discovered the body of a man floating in the Calumet river a short distance from this city, last Friday, and suspecting that it might be the body of Davidson, who disappeared mysteriously Aug. 8, they made efforts to take the body from the water. The body sank as they attempted to to drag it to shore, and has not been recovered.

Davidson is known to have had differences with a labor union, members of which are said to have made threats against his life. The police believe the search in the river confirms their suspicions that Davidson met death in the river, and say they will be able to show that he was killed by enemies or took his own life. Davidson came to Hammond from Rochester, Ind., where he is well known. His wife was Miss Verne Brugh, a belle of Leiters Ford, Ind., who also has relatives in Rochester and Hammond. Dynamite is being used to explode in the river, and renewed efforts are to be made to recover the body.

HEAP MUCH CROWD

Attendance at Red Men's Celebration Estimated From 25,000 to 40,000.

Frankfort, Ind., Aug. 23.—A crowd variously estimated at from 25,000 to 40,000 people attended the Wabash Valley Redmen's pow-wow in this city yesterday. There were 15,000 Red Men in the line of parade including the Anderson and Lafayette uniform drill corps. Congressman Cromer marched with the Anderson corps.

At the fair grounds speeches were made by Judge J. V. Kent of Frankfort, J. G. Coffman of Muncie, great sachem of Indiana; J. E. Sedgwick of Martinsville, great prophet of Indiana, and E. E. Neel of Noblesville. There was a fine program of races in the afternoon, and a magnificent display of fireworks in the evening.

Death of Aged Editor.

Shelbyville, Ind., Aug. 23.—William H. Green, the veteran printer and publisher, but who retired many years ago from active business life as far as the printing business is concerned, died here yesterday at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. P. D. Harris. Mr. Green was ninety-one years of age, yet he maintained his mental faculties perfectly. He was the auditor of Fayette county for two terms, many years ago. He was an Odd Fellow, and will be buried by that order at Connersville on Wednesday, August 23, the remains being taken to that place that day. Mr. Gree was engaged in the newspaper business at Brookville, Connersville and Evansville, in this state. He was also a prominent member of the First Presbyterian church of this city.

Wants $25,000 Damages.

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 23.—George Hargrove and John Boyle, organizers of the United Mine Workers, who were beaten by coal and iron police in West Virginia, are to go to Charleston in that state as soon as possible, to confer with counsel of the organization. President John Mitchell is determined that if possible there shall be redress for what the miners say was a conspired attempt at murder. The Mine Worker, the official organ, this week urges that a suit for damages be filed in the United States court for Indiana against Baldwin, at the head of the coal and iron police, and Senator S. B. Elkins and Henry G. Davis, who own the mining property at Norfolk, where the assault was committed.

Novel Swimming Match

Worthington, Ind., Aug. 23.—A swimming match, the contestants being men seventy-three years of age, is promised if Henry Williams, commonly called Uncle Henry, accepts the challenge which Henry Baker has sent him. The two men will be seventy-three the same day, and Mr. Baker suggests that each place $25 cash on the opposite bank of the river and the one reaching it first is to have the $50 for his trouble.

Fatal Conflict.

Morocco, Ind., Aug. 23.—Two gangs of negroes, laborers on the new Walsh railroad, met near St. Mary, a little town west of here, after receiving their month's wages, and one gang attempted to hold up the other. In the fight that ensued one negro was killed by being shot in the breast, while two others received serious knife wounds. Three of the negroes were arrested and placed in jail at Wataika.

Agonizing Burns

are instantly relieved and perfectly healed by Bucklen's Arnica Salve. C. Rivenbark, Jr., of Norfolk, Va., writes: "I burnt my knee dreadfully; that it blistered all over. Bucklen's Arnica Salve stopped the pain, and healed it without a scar." Also heals all wounds and sores. 25c at W. F. Peter Drug Co.

SEEING AMERICA.

Wonderful Scenic Trip Across Rocky Mountains to Oregon Exposition.

In certain respects the excursions to the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition, Portland, Oregon, via Pennsylvania Lines, beginning May 23rd and continuing through the summer, offer advantages never before presented to Exposition visitors. The trip to the Oregon Exposition, in addition to the attractiveness of the extensive exhibits, includes the journey through the scenic wonderland of the Rocky Mountains and the Cascade Range, and what American has not looked forward from the days of the geography class in school to the time when those great sights should be seen in reality? The time was never so favorable as now. The trip may be made less expensive than ever. For only a slight difference in fare tourists may extend their trip to San Francisco and Los Angeles. The return trip may be made over a different route, enabling travelers to view much more of the west. For full particulars, fares, dates of special excursions to Portland on account of conventions, through time and passenger service apply to ticket agent of Pennsylvania lines.

BAND CONCERT.

Banda Rossa, of Philadelphia, Will Play on Street This Evening

Gregory's Banda Rossa, of Philadelphia, a band of much excellence, arrived last evening from Cairo, Illinois, and will remain at this place until the Woodmen Carnival, when they will begin duty and remain with the Monarch Carnival Company the rest of the season. This is an excellent addition to the attractions of this company and to the entertainment features of the Log Rolling.

They gave a free entertainment at various places on the streets this morning and the hearty applause showed the appreciation of such fine music. There are eight members of the band with Prosperi Pasquale as leader, who is also composer of a number of pieces played. The other members are: M. Liparini, V. d'Angeligo, S. Durante Paterson, G. Di Mario, A. Cantifio, G. Billotta and Damiani Linari. The band was traveling with a show company and were billed for three or four weeks engagements through the south, but were debarred from filling the same on account of the yellow fever quarantine and a change of plans was made necessary.

This band will give a free concert at 7 o'clock this evening in front of the New Lynn Hotel. Everybody is invited to come out and hear the music.

The following article was taken from a paper from Cairo, Illinois:

"The Banda Rossa gave a concert in front of the Halliday Hotel last evening, which drew a large crowd. The music they render is indeed fine and was highly appreciated by the large crowd present. The Spanish piece was the leader's own composition and was played twice by request of parties in the crowd."

Speaker Cantwell.

Sydney W. Cantwell of Hartford City, Speaker of the last Indiana House of Representatives, was operated on at St. Vincent's Hospital Tuesday afternoon for tuberculosis of the kidneys. He stood the ordeal much better than expected, as he was in a weakened physical condition.

The operation was performed by Dr. W. N. Wishard, assisted by Drs. Cook and Oliver. Mr. Cantwell was on the operating table over two hours, but he exhibited remarkable vitality in rallying from the anaesthetic. His condition Tuesday night was somewhat in his favor, but it was stated at the hospital that it would possibly not be known for two or three days whether or not he had a chance to recover.

Speaker Cantwell's health has been declining since the close of the legislature. His health was too delicate to stand the strain of the speakership.

Inspected School Building.

State Factory Inspector McAbee was here by request this week to make an examination of the Shields school building the safety and sanitary condition of which has been questioned by some. Just what he will report officially about this building is not known in detail yet. He criticized the fire escapes saying they did not comply with the law and he found the building very imperfectly ventilated. It is understood that he will send another man here who will inspect the building from a sanitary standpoint, that line of inspection not being strictly in the line of his department.

Heavy Rain.

The rainfall Tuesday night was the hardest here for sometime. The government gauge showed that the rainfall during the night was only a small fraction less than two inches.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Frank A. Bare Has a Thrilling Experience.

Frank A. Bare, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Huffman, of this city, had a thrilling experience and a narrow escape from death last Friday at Mansfield, Ohio, where he is president of the Bare Brothers-Martin Hardware Company. The Mansfield News tells the story as follows:

"Mr. Bare and W. L. Kile were driving west on the avenue shortly after 12 o'clock when the left front wheel of the buggy came off frightening the horse and causing it to dash up the avenue at terrific speed. Mr. Kile was able to leap from the buggy as the wheel came off, but Mr. Bare's right foot became entangled in the lines and he was thrown from the vehicle, his shoulders and left arm dragging on the ground. With great presence of mind Mr. Bare held his head up thus preventing its striking the pavement. He was dragged 250 yards before the horse was stopped. Dr. Hedges was at the spot where the horse was stopped within a few seconds and conveyed the injured man to his home where he rendered aid. The left arm and side and back of Mr. Bare were badly bruised and lacerated, but it is stated that no internal injuries were received."

The relatives here have no particulars of the accident other than what is told in a marked copy of the paper sent them.

Children's Party.

The primary class of the Presbyterian Sunday school was pleasantly entertained Tuesday afternoon by the teacher, Mrs. Helen Laird at her home on West Fourth street. Misses Atta Postlethwaite and Elsie Cordes assisted in the games and other amusements by which thirty children were entertained. Refreshments were served.

Bad Dollar.

Just now it is advisable to be on the watch for counterfeit coin. Some spurious dollars have been put out here. One was passed at W. A. Carter & Son's store yesterday. It is a fair imitation of the silver dollar but is under weight. The date on the counterfeit is 1895. Be cautious and avoid taking bad dollars.

Stacks of Wall Paper

In all conceivable designs are here. If you knew how cheap artistic wall paper is at our store, you wouldn't let those rooms go another season with their old wall covering. Freshen them up, it'll cost you but little, and means lots of comfort.

Miller's Book Store,

Don't do as This Man did.

He bought poor coal, and when it was delivered at his home it was dumped out on the sidewalk, so that he was compelled to carry it to his bins himself. When a man buys poor coal and gets poor delivery service, he has made a bad bargain.

Ebner's Service is O. K.

Every order for coal is filled promptly and the coal is delivered to just where it is wanted, no matter if that place is on the roof.

Ebner sells nothing but first-class coal, and the best brand for general household use that we handle is Raymond City. If you place your orders now we will supply you with all the Raymond City coal you want for the low price of $3.50 per ton. So phone your orders at once to
